Easter Basket Hairdo

Most Unique 'Bonnet'

In keeping with the Easter tradition of acquiring a colorful new chapeau, an original Easter "bonnet" was displayed Thursday by Miss Carmen Ward, 17, of 4720 Warnock avenue, whose shoulder-length tresses were transformed into a silver basket containing sparkling red, blue and gold "eggs." It was probably the most unique in the Quad-Cities this Easter.

The dark-haired Miss Ward, a student at the Granite City School of Beauty Culture, served as model for Mrs. Dorothy Line, school style director, during a styling class session that resulted in the unique coiffure.

Glitter-spray in varied colors was used to etch the hair and help hold in place the wicker basket base and "Easter egg" curls. The entire arrangement except for the basket itself, was fashioned from the model's own hair.

Miss Ward, who started her apprenticeship as a beauty operator Feb. 1, is required to complete 100 hours of class instruction and practical work before receiving her graduation certificate.

Conduct Charge Filed
Virgil Keller, 49, of 13154 Nineteenth street was arrested at 7:10 p.m. Friday at his home on a disorderly conduct charge. He was released on $25 cash bail.

Depends on Weather

Nameoki Rd. Finish Surface May be Applied Next Month

The finish coat of asphalt on Nameoki road from Madison avenue north to the city limits may become a possibility after April 15—depending on weather conditions.

State highway regulations at the earliest date, but even temperatures in the 40s can present problems—especially if there are rains.

The initial layer of asphalt was applied last year by General Contracting Co. before the project was shut down for the winter.

With the finish layer, which may be applied in late April or in May, the humps and bumps along the improved roadway will be eliminated and better runoff of surface water will be provided.

St. Louis Man, 72, Found in Canal Here

The body of a man identified as William Latal, 72, of St. Louis, was found floating in the Chain of Rocks canal Thursday afternoon by two Granite City boys.

Mr. Latal was midway between the Interstate 270 and old Route 66-40 bridge—His 1962 auto, a station wagon, was found just off of the interstate bridge. The boys, Larry Young, 3430 Maryville road, and Terry Whitehead, 2436 East 24th street, called the county sheriff's office and state police.

His family said Mr. Latal had left home at about 8:45 a.m. to see his doctor, but the doctor's office reported it had received a call canceling the appointment. Alvin Cease, deputy coroner, said cause of death was not immediately established but that there were no notes nor marks of violence. An inquest is pending.

The man was attired in khaki work trousers, a gray-green plaid shirt and black shoes. An inquest has been set for this week, probably Wednesday evening, in the death of Mr. Latal, who resided in 1962 after 15 years as president of St. Louis Teamsters Local 688.

He had been found by state police a half-hour before the body was discovered. They ordered the abandoned vehicle towed to a service station.

When found, he was dressed in a sport shirt and slacks and his pockets contained money and identification papers.

Mr. Latal had worked closely with Teamsters International Vice-President Harold Gibbons in a dispute that resulted in the local leaving the Retail-Wholesale Union in 1962 and affiliating with the Teamsters a year later. He had been serving as a building supervisor for Teamsters Joint Council 13.

Care on Income Tax Form Can Speed Up Refund

Failure to check the box indicating marital status delayed thousands of income tax refunds expected by Illinois taxpayers last year.

Jay G. Philpott, IRS district director for central and southern Illinois, said unless the IRS was sure whether the return represented a married couple filing a joint return, a married person filing separately or an unmarried person claiming the head of household deduction, the proper tax liability could not be determined. Tax laws provide different treatment for each of these categories, he said.

Philpott said that in many cases the taxpayers had forgotten to check any of the boxes indicating marital status or type of return being filed.

In other cases, the IRS had some question whether the proper box had been checked. This doubt would arise, he said, if the taxpayer claimed the head of household deduction but did not list any dependents or if the taxpayer filed a joint return but did not list his spouse.

To avoid any delay in receiving a refund, Philpott advised taxpayers to read the instructions carefully and check to make sure all the information needed is contained in the return. He pointed out that incomplete and inaccurate returns are costly to the government as well as irritating to the taxpayer.

Cong. Price Supports Vocational Ed. Schools

A proposed increase in federal assistance for vocational education schools drew immediate support from Congressman Melvin Price, (D) East St. Louis, last week.

Rep. Price's endorsement followed the announcement that the House Education and Labor subcommittee on General Education would start hearings this week on legislation authorizing additional planning, construction and operating funds for residential vocational education facilities.

The pending legislation provides for initial 90% funding, being reduced to 75% after two years, for planning, construction and maintenance of such schools. Special consideration would be given to areas with high unemployment and low educational attainment among the school age population.

"The committee's action," Price said, "signifies the ever increasing recognized society." The Illinois Democrat who has been campaigning for a $3.75 million school at East St. Louis for 16 southwestern Illinois counties, noted that by 1970 more than 14% of the labor force would be under 25 years of age, compared to 10% in 1960.

"Over one million students drop out of school each year," Price observed, further noting that "60% of the students presently in the fifth grade will not complete college."

"Moreover, the unemployment rate among those who fail to finish school is 50% greater than among those who complete high school," he explained. "The promise vocational education holds for our area," the East St. Louis Representative contended, "is immediately seen by the fact that four of the 16 counties the proposed school would serve are designated as depressed areas by the Economic Development Administration."

St. Clair, Calhoun, Jersey and Perry counties are designated as such. It is evident that we must continue to press for employment training and producing programs if our area is to have the kind of future we want it to have."

Price said, "Otherwise, the vicious cycle of high unemployment, low educational achievement, decreased tax bases, and increased public services demand will run its full course, spiraling into irreparable social and economic bankruptcy."

Required Tax Return Schedules Outlined

Taxpayers with income from farming, pensions or business and professional activities or who have profits or losses on the sale of property must attach certain schedules to their federal tax return Form 1040 when they file. Thousands of Illinois taxpayers failed to do this last year, according to Jay G. Philpott, IRS district director for central and southern Illinois. As a result, their returns could not be processed until the schedules were obtained, and any refunds due were similarly delayed.

The schedules omitted include the following: Schedule B—To report income from pensions and annuities, rents and royalties, partnerships and estates or trusts.

Schedule C—To report profits or losses from a business or profession.

Schedule D—To report gains and losses from sales or exchanges of property.

Schedule F—To report farm income and expenses.

Philpott said copies of these schedules as well as many other forms are available at some banks, post offices and local offices of the IRS.

Krusec of 2007 Thirteenth street, has completed four weeks of individual combat training at the Marine Corps Base, Camp Pendleton, Calif. During his more than 200 hours of training, he learned about weapons and combat techniques from combat veteran instructors. They taught him how to conduct combat patrols, detect and remove mines and booby traps and use the standard Marine Corps infantry weapons. He will now receive at least four weeks of specialist training before being assigned to his first permanent unit.

Medicare Doctor Bills Need to be Itemized

Social Security District Manager Ralph Brasher reminded area medicare beneficiaries today that doctor bills sent to the medicare carrier for repayment must be itemized and must be marked paid.

"Continental Casualty Co., the carrier which handles medicare bills in this area, cannot make payment for bills that are not itemized or that show only 'services rendered,' he said. When a beneficiary sends his request for payment form with an itemized or unpaid bill to the medicare carrier, payment of his claim may be delayed while Continental Casualty Co. writes back for a new bill."

Brasher explained there are two methods of payment under medicare doctor bills insurance. When the doctor agrees, the "assignment" method may be used. The doctor sends the request for payment form to the carrier and bills the beneficiary only for the part of the bill that medicare doesn't cover.

When the beneficiary is going to send the claim to the medicare carrier himself, he fills out the first part of the request for payment form and then has the doctor complete the second part of the form showing the services and the charges to the patient.

If the doctor does not fill out the second part of the form, however, the beneficiary must enclose an itemized receipt bill. "When a bill is enclosed," Brasher said, "it is very important that it show, not only the charges, but what specific services were given to the patient and on what date. The bill must also be marked paid."

Brasher emphasized that a beneficiary who sends in an itemized receipt bill should also be very careful to complete all blanks on the top part of the request for payment form including the "description of illness."

Here, he said, the beneficiary should simply put down why he went to the doctor or in his own words what was wrong with him. "We are inviting beneficiaries to come in and see us when they make their first claim. We will be happy to check their form and make sure that all of the necessary information has been included, and at the same time we can answer any questions they might have."

"If there are some beneficiaries who are unable to come to the office at East St. Louis, they may mail us their forms with payment number and we will contact them if additional information is needed," Brasher said.

SIU Crime Specialist To Study Work Release

A Southern Illinois University crime specialist has been awarded a federal grant of $17,466 to finance a 15-month study of the effects of work release and parole on inmates of North Carolina prisons.

Elmer H. Johnson, who is assistant director of the SIU Center for the Study of Crime, Delinquency and Corrections, Carbondale, received the grant from the Vocational Rehabilitation Administration of the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Johnson had been on the faculty of North Carolina State University for 20 years, during which time he served for two years as assistant director of the state prison system and as a parole supervisor.

Work release is described by Johnson as a system under which selected inmates are permitted to work at certain jobs on the outside during working hours, returning to the prison to spend the remainder of each day.

$30,000 Alienation Suit Filed for Dentist

A $30,000 alienation of affections suit was filed in the circuit court at Edwardsville last week for Dr. Albert Triant, Granite City dentist, against Robert Jingling, a member of the armed forces serving overseas.

The complaint alleges that through 1965, Jingling "intentionally destroyed and alienated from the plaintiff the affections of his wife, Wilma," claims Dr. Triant lost and has been deprived of the society, affection, assistance and comfort of his wife in domestic affairs. He is divorced.

Fishing Good at Carlyle Lake

Illinois anglers caught 40,000 pounds of fish in the Carlyle Reservoir late last year, according to the state division of fisheries.

The Carlyle Reservoir was created by constructing a dam across the Kaskaskia River in Clinton county, near the city of Carlyle.

Fishermen caught more carp than any other fish. Other species caught were freshwater drum, largemouth bass, catfish, bullheads, bluegill and crappie. A few sauger and hybrid sunfish were also landed.

Preferred bait was worms in the tailwaters of the lake and for carp, whole kernel corn in the spring and doughballs in the fall. Crayfish and minnows were considered to be the best drum and crappie baits.

3rd Trojan All-Sports Dinner Thursday Night

The 1957 Madison high school all-sports banquet will honor over 150 school athletes participating in the Trojan athletic program at 7 p.m. Thursday.

It will be the third annual MHS sports dinner.

The athletes, school board members and other invited guests will enjoy roast beef, chicken and other dishes to be served in the high school cafeteria annex.

No special awards will be made at the banquet, which is sponsored by the Madison school board and School Attorney John Gitchoff.

"We feel that team effort outpercedes individual ability, and the banquet is simply to honor all the athletes," Supt. of Schools Ray Dragich told the Press-Record.

A guest speaker for the event has not yet been decided upon, Supt. Dragich said. "We will try to keep it as informal as possible," he added.

MORE ABOUT

itive arguments that may or may not prove valid.

Opponents also lack provable evidence in some cases, but stress that no governmental plan should receive blind acceptance. They call attention to site, cost and distance factors and say that the timing is disadvantageous at present.

Ten factors and recent developments cited by the Manufacturers Association of the Tri-Cities in reversing its earlier support of the junior college proposal are as follows:

1. Rising tax levies of existing governmental agencies.
2. State Facing Red Ink
3. Increasing state governmental financial commitments in public education, mental health and public welfare aid.
4. Junior college experience in other states, particularly California, indicating that the program "can lead to serious fiscal imbalance and tax burden at both the local and state levels despite the most astute planning and rigorous administration."
5. Decisions against supporting the junior college proposal by "civic groups much more closely representative of the general public than our industrial association."
6. Doubt that the tax portion borne locally "would bear a proper relationship with the amount of vocational-technical training that the citizens from this community could expect to receive, even though the junior college law requires that at least 15% of the curriculum must be in vocational-technical subjects."
7. The association comments that "it may well be that the answer to increased vocational-technical training for our citizens lies in expanding the excellent vocational-technical and adult education programs of our local school districts."

8. "It is a fact that additional vocational-technical training may be available 'for some years to come if encouragement is given in that direction' at SIU-SW, which has achieved less than half of its estimated eventual enrollment of 17,000 to 18,000."

9. Uncertainty over the junior college site or sites, which "will have an important effect on the use of vocational facilities by our area's citizens."

10. Long Travel Possible

"If a site were selected near the geographic center of the proposed district, students from our community desiring vocational-technical training may indeed find it more convenient to attend classes already available at local high schools or the numerous trade schools in the metropolitan area."

11. Continuing uncertainty over whether East St. Louis would be added to the district by the junior college district after it was established.

"Although there is a junior college district in existence in Belleville, none has yet been planned for the remaining portion of St. Clair county, particularly East St. Louis."

"It has been provided in the Illinois Public Junior College Act that any compact and contiguous territory not a part of a junior college district may be annexed to the district by petition or referendum of the voters of the territory desiring annexation, with approval of the state board."

"If a junior college district is created at this time in our area, the territory in St. Clair county not now in a district may find it convenient to annex itself at some time in the future and, in so doing, add a considerable educational responsibility without a corresponding assessed valuation."

9. The currently proposed tax and the possible later tax burden.

"The potential yearly local tax burden of the proposed junior college district of a half-million dollars or more, subject to being doubled or tripled through future full use of the 25-cent tax rate proposed for authorization and by future junior college rate elections, could directly finance a complete college education for hundreds of local students annually by either personal efforts or through the tuition payment plan by local school districts already authorized in existing statutes."

10. Doubt that a junior college would include a program for many in need of further training.

Special Dropout Program

"Recent figures developed by our local school districts indicate a considerable educational problem with regard to high school dropouts which may demand a specially designed vocational-technical education programs at the local community unit school level for several hundred local young people annually who have not obtained high school graduation."

"The Illinois Task Force on Education, sponsored by Gov. Otto Kerner, State Supt. of Public Instruction, James G. Thompson, and the Illinois School Problems Commission, said in 1966 that 'it is necessary for each school district to provide or to arrange provision for training programs for adults who have dropped out of the labor market and later desire to return.'"

"The Task Force continued, 'Common skills in various occupations should be researched and the schools should organize instruction around these broadly applicable skills and knowledge. Proliferation of specialized vocational courses should not be accepted—such a practice can easily lead to agricultural selling, industrial selling, retail selling, institutional selling, etc.'"

"An individual allowed to drop out of school before graduation of his regular high school class should be required to attain an entry level skill; this may be achieved by participation in a work-study program."

Secondary School Duties

"Each secondary school should offer every student an opportunity to prepare for entry level in home and family living and in at least four of the following five broad areas: industrial, agricultural, commercial and business, distributive and service. These programs could be offered locally, or through area schools, or through joint agreements among school districts."

Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers statistics reflect contrasting aspects of the over-all educational effort in this state.

the recommendation that condemnation suits be filed.

Arthur P. Kettnerhosen, representing the office of the district engineer, urged that immediate action be taken to clear legal entanglements prior to April 14.

"If this can be done, and I cannot see why it shouldn't be accomplished judging by the number of right-of-way agreements, already signed," he commented, "it will allow the estimated $700,000 widening and improvement program to be listed on the May 26 call for bids."

Next Bidding July 7

The highway official cautioned that should negotiations or legal action delay listing the south Nameoki road project in May, the city should shoot for the next bid-letting date on July 7.

He added, "in order to list the project on the department's July schedule, the latest date for clearance of property is in late May."

Few problems involving present encroachments on the new right-of-way are expected, O'Neill said. He reported that many property owners whose signs will be in violation have clauses written into contracts, stating they will remove or relocate the signs prior to the highway improvement program getting under way.

In answer to a question by Alderman Richard Fry, Kettnerhosen said, "We must have clearance on all encroachments or a firm written commitment that the encroachment will be removed by the bid-letting date."

A total of 41 encroachments are reported along the right-of-way extending from Madison avenue south to Edwardsville road.

Mayor Partney said, "If there was any possible way to get this job going without recommending state take the quick-take condemnation method we would do so. We must certify that the right-of-way is clear before the state will issue a call for bids."

Reason for Quick Action

Kettnerhosen also noted, "If money allocated to this district is spent before we get the Nameoki road project listed, we possibly could lose the program entirely. That is why immediate action is called for."

He outlined the procedures the city must follow as an official statement prepared by Assistant City Atty. Norman Kinder which recommends "quick-take" suits be filed against the 15 property owners; the brief then submitted to the Illinois division of highways which in turn will refer the recommendation to the Illinois attorney general's office for preparation of condemnation petitions.

Kettnerhosen said the petitions will then be returned to director of the state highway division for signature and subsequently filed in circuit court by the department's field representative.

He said that if the assistant city attorney prepares the list of property owners against whom condemnation suits will be filed within the next week, the city stand a "a good chance" of obtaining action in time for the department's May 26 call for bids.

Partney and O'Neill commented on the fine cooperation evidence by south Nameoki road residents. Both stressed that legal entanglements, such as the clearances, were presenting the Excuse where high school districts have operated junior colleges, as in Belleville, education beyond the twelfth grade has not been financed from property taxes in the past.

The junior college issue to be decided by voters here and elsewhere April 12—whether or not to create the Lewis and Clark junior college district—directly confronts Quad-Cityans with the property-taxation-for-higher-education question.

With the prospect that this community would have to pick up more than its share of the bill, a situation that would be worsened if East St. Louis later joined the district, many voters may be in a quandary.

Even being personally committed to "education" does not resolve the question for a voter, since approval of a junior college undoubtedly would create more competition for money and manpower for public schools and established universities like SIU-SW.

Estimates of the number of students that would attend a junior college in this area vary considerably.

Jr. College Dropouts, Too

In California, the system Illinois higher education planners are trying to copy, nearly 50% of junior college students drop out before they are eligible to transfer or receive a degree. At SIU-SW, students from the eighty-one area enrolled as freshmen in the fall of 1964 numbered 1415, dropping to 513 in the fall 1965 sophomore class.

In a review of the California experience, the Wall Street Journal said March 3, "Junior colleges are having a tough time raising the percentage of students taking vocational courses to the level they would like."

"The student is a free agent. He or his family sees that immediate paycheck is more important. All you can do is counsel and guide him. And the status our society places on certain professions has already influenced him considerably."

Costs Compared

In theory, junior colleges are cheaper to operate than universities because they lack the more elaborate types of educational equipment; they principally provide general classrooms. However, the estimate of more than $1000 a year per student at the Lewis & Clark junior college is more than double local public school costs.

It has been contended that voters face junior college expenditures regardless of the outcome of Saturday's election, since school systems not in a junior college district will tax to meet the tuition of their residents attending junior colleges elsewhere. But the cost would be far less per student and the same number of students might not be involved.

Incumbents Face Contests for Township Posts

One Highway Post Open in Chouteau; Five Seeking It

Only one township office—that of highway commissioner—is open to election in Chouteau township on April 4, but five candidates are making a lively race for the office.

Candidates include T. R. Luebber of Hartford, James Estes of Mitchell, Walter Sharleville of Rural Route One, Granite City, Harry Deatherage of 3120 Maryville road, and Gerald Farris, 502 Maryland road.

Chouteau township voters will ballot in four precincts: Precinct One—Mitchell Ward District office, 745 East Chain of Rocks road; Precinct Two—South Roxana Fire Hall, South Roxana; Precinct Three—Civic Hall, Hartford; and Precinct Four—Cherbert building, Old Alton road.

WALTER SHARLEVILLE

Walter J. Sharleville, 59, of Rural Route One, Granite City, is seeking election as township highway commissioner of Chouteau township, one of five candidates for the only post open in Chouteau in the township elections this year.

Sharleville has been employed by the township highway department for the past six years, and said in announcing his candidacy, "I have had six years' experience with the present highway commissioner and I feel that I am qualified for the job. If elected I will devote my full time to my work as I hold no other job."

He was born in the Mitchell area and has been a lifelong resident of the area. He is a member of the Presbyterian Church. Sharleville has not held public office before. He served ten years in the U. S. Navy. He is married.

JAMES ESTES

James L. Estes, 124 Volpe place, Mitchell, is candidate for township highway commissioner of Chouteau township. He currently is employed as a foreman with the Illinois State Highway Department, is a former deputy sheriff for seven years under George Musso and Harry Ogle and is incumbent Democratic commissioner of Precinct One in Chouteau township.

Estes, who is 40, is a lifelong resident of the area. He attended Mitchell elementary school and Granite City senior high school. He is a member of the Mitchell Presbyterian Church. He and his wife, Janet, have three children. He has been a member of the Mitchell Fire Department for 20 years.

He spent two years with the Marines in the South Pacific during world war II and was wounded on Saipan. After his recovery, he was assigned to Washington, D. C., where he served as a guard to President Franklin D. Roosevelt, the original constitution of the United States and the Magna Carta of Great Britain. He was with the late President Roosevelt when he died at Warm Springs, Ga., in 1945. While deputy sheriff Estes also served as a guard for the late President John F. Kennedy during his tour of Madison and St. Clair counties.

Briggs and Deltour Have Opposition in Nameoki

A contest for two of the three township posts open to election will highlight balloting in the Nameoki township election April 4. The township is one of the few in the county and the only one in the Quad-City area in which the office of supervisor is open to election. Most township supervisors were elected in 1965.

Incumbent supervisor Harry Briggs is opposed for the supervisor post by Edgar Patrick, 3819 Pontoon road, business representative of the Bartender's Union, while incumbent Assistant Supervisor Roger Deltour, 2113 Dawn avenue, is opposed by George Smolar, 2401 Gary avenue.

Charles Hanks, 2529 Stratford lane, township highway commissioner, is unopposed. Briggs, Deltour and Hanks are running on a Labor Party ticket, while Patrick and Smolar filed as independent candidates.

Nameoki township voters will ballot at seven precincts, located as follows:

Precinct One: Long Lake Fire Department, 4000 Pontoon road, 2025 Rhodes street, Madison.

Precinct Two: Pete Soles residence, 2025 Rhodes street, Madison.

Precinct Three: Tri-City Glass Co., 4500 Wabash avenue.

Precinct Four: State Park Place Community Center, 3508 Harvard avenue, Collinsville.

Precinct Five: Raymond Bono residence, 2440 Angella drive.

Precinct Six: Hal Painter residence, 2544 Stratford lane.

Precinct Seven: Town Hall, 4229 Highway A.

Polling places will be open from 6 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Five Seeking 3 Asst. Supervisor Posts in GC Race

Granite City voters will elect three assistant supervisors in the township election April 4, making its selection from a field of five candidates.

All of the three incumbents whose terms expire this year are seeking re-election. Two independent candidates have filed petitions. Incumbents seeking new terms include William Webb, 2421 St. Clair avenue; Carl H. Roach, 2640 Edison avenue; and Mrs. Mary Ann Gaughan, 2108 Edwards street.

Other candidates include Leroy Mangiaracino of 505 Kirkpatrick Homes, and Dan Churovich, 2832 Edwards street.

Voters casting ballots in the city and township election in Granite City will use the same polling places this year in virtually all precincts. It has been with a deep sense of responsibility that I enjoyed being a member of the county nursing home committee and detention home committee."

"We have been making much improvement and progress in these areas. Serving my first year on these committees proved my qualifications for reappointment and I have great hopes of remaining on these committees and serving in a like manner with qualified experience."

T. R. LUEBBERT

T. R. Luebber, 102 East Second street, Hartford, seeking election as highway commissioner of Chouteau township, has been a resident of the Chouteau township area all of his life.

He is an operating engineer and attended high school at Wood River. He served four years in the U. S. Navy.

Luebber said he is seeking the post because he feels "I am experienced and qualified" for the requirements of the post. He is married.

A community is what you make it and when you find so very, very many fine people in this township, I believe you can't resist wanting to do something good in return for them."

LEROY MANGIARACINO

Leroy J. Mangiaracino, 45, of 505 Kirkpatrick Homes, is an independent candidate for election as assistant supervisor of Granite City township.

He is a native of Venice and has lived in Granite City 25 years. He is employed as a burner at Lipsett Steel Products, Inc. He formerly worked as a switchman at Granite City Steel Co. and as a machine operator at A. O. Smith Corp.

He is married and has a son and daughter.

Polling Places In GC To Serve City-Twp. Voters

Even with all of the candidate confusion in the forthcoming April 4 city election for Granite City, there is one bright side—single polling places will serve both the city and township elections in the 32 precincts.

Granite City voters will be able to vote according to their voter registration card issued by the county at the precincts designated.

The only exception will be for residents along the east side of the 2300 block of Edison avenue, where the boundary between the Second and Third Wards does not coincide with the township precinct lines. Those voters will be in Precinct Five instead of Precinct Seven, and will be required to go to two different polling places to vote for city and for township candidates.

In recent years about 1800 hundreds of Granite Cityans had to go to two polling places to vote in both the city and township elections, since the city had only 25 precincts, while the number of township precincts grew to 32. Plans now are for five election judges to be in each polling place to serve both the city and township elections. Voters for township candidates must be registered, but registration is not required for the city election.

SALE!

Every year as of April 1st we must fill out a Personal Property Tax Schedule on every item in our huge store and warehouse inventory, just as you do on your own personal property.

For this reason we've decided to take mark downs on all merchandise in our inventory that is 3 months old or older and sell it out prior to April 1st during our Annual Personal Property Inventory Reduction Sale. We hope to accomplish two things by cutting prices like this. First of all we hope to reduce our inventory and therefore cut our tax bill. Secondly, we hope to make room for all the new spring merchandise that is now beginning to come in.

Listed below is only a partial inventory stock list... thousands of other items are on sale but not listed... check the lists and then hurry in to see the many items not mentioned... quantities are limited. All items are subject to prior sale.

MR. AND MRS. JIMMY C. HICKS. Their wedding took place Saturday at Grace Baptist Church. Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Warford, 1804 State street, the bride is the former Sharon Ann Warford.

Miss Sharon Ann Warford Is Bride of Jimmy C. Hicks

Miss Sharon Ann Warford and Jimmy Colin Hicks were married Saturday at Grace Baptist Church.

The Rev. Clifford Moeller officiated at noon, and a reception was held afterward in the church basement.

Music was furnished by Mrs. Ray Parchment, organist, and Mrs. Marvin Keel, vocalist. The songs were "Because" and "Wedding Prayer." For her wedding the bride wore a white linen floor-length dress with an Empire waist line, a scoop neck and long tapered sleeves. Lined appliques trimmed the bodice, the hem and the train. A pillbox hat secured the bride's shoulder-length veil of illusion and she carried a white orchid, and white roses entwined with lace and green foliage. Mr. Warford gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Doris Sharp and Ronald

Hicks, the bridegroom's brother, were the only attendants. Dennis Bushue and Roger Clutts, cousins of the bride and groom, were bridesmaids.

Miss Sharp was attired in a pale green linen dress with a matching jacket and white accessories, while the bridegroom's mother chose a pink two-piece suit and beige accessories. Both wore roses and carnations to match their dresses.

When the newlyweds return from a honeymoon at Lake of the Ozarks, they will reside in Granite City.

The bride, a graduate of Granite City high school, is employed by the Federal Reserve Bank in St. Louis. The bridegroom, also a graduate of the local schools, is employed by the Nestle Co.

State Air Board Sets Meeting on Clean Air Rules

The Illinois Air Pollution Control Board will meet in Chicago Thursday to adopt control regulations governing emissions of smoke and particulate matter and to discuss a specific control program for the Madison-St. Clair county area. The meeting is to be held in the state of Illinois building beginning at 9:30 a.m.

The board's action on control regulations will be determined by results of a series of hearings held in January and February in different parts of the state. The regulations also will include specifications on new equipment installed by industries to control smoke and particulate emissions.

Details of a Madison-St. Clair county program have not been released in advance of the session, but the Illinois board has said on several occasions that because of the interstate issues involved between Illinois and Missouri in this area it will make a special effort to clean up the air in this area as an early phase of its enforcement program. The Illinois board has not yet fixed emission limits and pollutant standards for many specific types of pollutants, including the highly controversial sulfur-dioxide.

The board also is scheduled to discuss Illinois coal problems growing out of Missouri regulations limiting to 2% the sulfur content of coal that may be burned in industrial processes in the state. Coal producers claim the 2% sulfur limit will inflict multi-million-dollar economic losses upon the coal industry and the mine workers in the southern Illinois coal fields. Illinois has not yet fixed a sulfur limit on coal. A report also is to be made on status of court proceedings involving the Midway dump south of Granite City. State orders to cease burning at the dump have been appealed by the owner, Bud Brown.

Group Seeking Higher Milk Prices Aids Needy

Members of the Madison and Bond counties National Farmers Organization (NFO) participated in a milk buying action Friday, turning over more than 1300 gallons of the purchased milk to the Edwardsville Shut-In club and the Mid-Town Gateway Center for the Needy in St. Louis.

Erwin Wein of Edwardsville, public relations officer for the Madison county NFO branch, told the Press-Record that members of the two county organizations contributed over $1000 to the milk buying plan.

He noted that in the master contract which the NFO currently is seeking to have signed by milk processors, a clause specifies establishment of a special fund to enable quantities of surplus milk to be channeled to welfare agencies for distribution to the needy.

The drive in 25 states to push up milk prices is regarded as reflecting deep dissatisfaction over farm prices and costs.

Wein said the milk purchases were made by NFO members in various retail stores in Edwardsville and Greenville. Distribution of 60 gallons of milk to the Edwardsville shut-ins was handled by Mrs. Ruth Schramke, president of the shut-in club.

Mrs. Ruth Sierman, vice-president, and Louis Klenke.

Wein said over 1200 gallons were distributed to needy St. Louis children, arranged by Mrs. Anne Voss, community development director at the Mid-Town Center.

ABOUT THIS QUESTION:

Building costs are increasing roughly 3 1/2% each year—10% in three years. I know that property insurance to "full replacement value" rather than depreciated value is available. Does it only require that fire insurance be maintained to at least 80% of property value?
